I write drama and comedy. Family comedies and action dramas excite me. My style is minimalist, realistic and witty. I like combining drama and comedy. I also love to work on critiquing screenplays.

I love the dramatization of our lives and experiences in films and TV shows that are universal and versatile media.

I was born and raised in Tokyo and have been living in Mexico City for many years. I have been to Knoxville, TN and Columbia, SC to improve my English.
